Dr. Goldworthy Writes Orange Enterprise On Warwick Tax Rate

Editor Orange Enterprise:—

A "communication" appears in our local paper — "Northfield, Orange, Erving and Wendell, all report a big decrease in 1931 tax rates. We congratulate them. This is good management. Neighboring tax payers are anxiously waiting to hear the result of their rate." — "Citizen"

All these towns have railroad corporations to help out. Erving has a relatively long stretch of RR and two stations. Wendell has also a large Power Corporation tax. The Northfield Schools and Conferences bring in thousands of dollars to that town even though that property has been tax free. Orange seems to like pretty well a "Town Manager". We trust they do have good management and are fair and just in assessments to their corporations. Those towns may be favored in ways we are not. For the past ten years our town seems to have had some markedly constructive attempts at good business management, more of a feeling that something could be done to build us up and the present board of selectmen seem to be on to their job as far as is physically possible. The problem of raising tax money so as to do all that should be done for our future welfare is certainly a big contract. The spirit here is different now from that of an old timer who said once to the writer — "What's the use of our little town fighting the — — —" mentioning a large outside corporation which paid a rather large tax here.

We have been fighting and must continue to fight intelligently for good business management. We cannot continue to be mere stretchers of "wild and wast" land" along "State Highways" or do roadside sign service to outside corporations and communities or interests. We must "sell" our good blueberries, our good pine, our good soil, our good water and water power, our fragrant air, our attractive scenic assets so that there will be more summer, more all the year round homes and some local industries to help bear present and future tax burdens. For every dollar the State has put into the purchase of land here, she has planned for two others to define the boundary, clear the title and the land or at least to plant the land and to take care of it. That should give us an idea of what we should do to make our lands more valuable. We have got to fight to get the State to give us financial or other help to make it possible to determine lines and bounds. The State needs more cattle, more small crops and we have the land and the resources and it takes money, persistence, fighting to get what we need. Let's have that kind of "good management" also. Warwick, Mass., August 18, 1931.

Headed For Light Pole And Hit It Hard Result:—Bad Accident

Monday evening about ten o'clock the neighborhood of lower Main near Maple Street was suddenly awakened by the sound of a terrific crash which proved to be a Studebaker automobile bearing the Massachusetts registration number 292,071 crumpled up and badly damaged before a splintered electric light pole near the residence of Mr. M. E. Vorce. The driver of the car who gave his name as Milton S. Sherman of Montague City had grazed one pole — ploughed through a flowering bush and ended his hilarious auto ride of the evening with two young nurses from Farren Hospital and a young man Francis LeGend as his guest. Sherman and one of the young ladies had been to Keene and had stopped at Hinsdale to pick up the additional couple. When the car struck the occupants were thrown by the impact and the young ladies were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vorce where they were cared for by Dr. A. H. Wright, one of the young ladies being quite badly cut. Later they were removed to their homes. Witnesses of the accident said there was no good reason for its happening. The road was clear with one automobile following and another on the opposite side of the street brought to a halt while the occupants assisted in caring for the young women until the doctor arrived. Rev. Mr. Coe and Rev. Mr. Brown also early on the scene rendered assistance. Sherman was arrested by Constable Haskell and arraigned in the Greenfield district court Tuesday morning where he pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness and the hearing was continued for a week, when a supplementary charge of operating under the influence of liquor will be brought against him. He was released under bail.

Five Persons Hurt At Hermon Dry Bridge

Five persons were badly injured when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into the steam road roller parked beside the road between Bernardston and Northfield. At the new construction work of the bridge over the Boston and Maine R. R. tracks.

The injured are Mr. and Mrs. David V. Keatley, 20 Van Horn Street, West Springfield, Mrs. Sybil S. Warren, and Mrs. Edith Slattery, both of 40 High Street, Springfield. They were removed to the Franklin County Hospital and it was reported that Mr. Keatley has bruises, Mrs. Keatley a fractured ankle, Mrs. Warren a fracture of the left leg and Mrs. Slattery fractured wrist and thumb.

Charles Warren, husband of Mrs. Sybil Warren, driver of the car, suffered a cracked rib. The accident was investigated by the state police. There seems to have been no excuse for this accident.

Haigis May Run For State Governor Decision Soon

Mr. John W. Haigis of Greenfield and well known in Northfield where he has many friends is being pressed for a decision on the many rumors that he will be a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of Governor of this state. If he runs he will be given big support by Northfield voters — It is hoped that soon — very definitely Mr. Haigis will announce his candidacy for either the Republican nomination for Governor or Lieutenant-Governor or else definitely eliminate himself from the political picture next year.

East Hall Staff Has Farewell Party

Last Saturday evening the Conference employed staff of East Hall held a farewell gathering with Miss Alice Zabriskie as guest. The party sat down to decorated tables to partake of a dinner with all the good things and a social time followed in which all participated. Miss Zabriskie was presented with a Waterman fountain pen as a token of esteem of the East Hall staff.

Buys New Busses

Mr. John Black and Mr. Winifred Fellows who hold contracts for the transportation of school children on their routes have purchased each a Ford Station wagon auto from Spencer's Garage. These busses like those used by the Northfield Hotel are up to date in every particular and can accommodate about ten persons each. Northfield can well feel satisfied with its school transportation facilities.

September Issue Out

The September issue of the Record of Christian Work (Mr. A. P. Pitt, Editor) is out. It contains as usual so much that should be of interest to every Conference attendant. If you own a copy of the Record read the article "when fire fell at Northfield." If you do not have a copy buy one and read it — but better subscribe for a year — all issues contain splendid articles on religious matters and conference addresses.

Christian Endeavor End Their Sessions Sunday's Meeting

"If the objects of early Christian history could be restored, the Upper Room would perhaps be the most revered," Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, N. J., told the Northfield conference of the Massachusetts Christian Endeavor last Sunday morning in one of its closing sessions at the Auditorium. Dr. Foulkes is the vice president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor. "The Four Doors of the Upper Room" was the topic of Dr. Foulkes address. The first of these doors leads from Main Street and is called the door of Discipleship. Through this Jesus walked as He came into the Upper Room. There are four acts that the Master did with His hands in that room. He first took a towel. It was not a sword or a scepter, but a towel on His garments again, being restored the symbol of service. He then put to His Lordship. Thirdly, He took bread. This act has become the greatest monument and memorial. Lastly, Jesus took the cup, which became the symbol of victory. All these acts, the speaker declared, are significant indices of the character and purpose of Jesus.

The second door opens out into the night and is called Doomsday. This door also opens out into the garden, and to the cross. There Peter offered his sword, the symbol of force, with which to defend Jesus. The Master forbade its use, thus indicating for all time that individuals as well as nations can live together in peace not by armaments but by friendliness.

The third door was shut by fear. It is important after the death and resurrection of Jesus. The disciples were huddled together in fear at the death of their Lord. They were disillusioned. Then Jesus appeared through the door of Disillusionment, and showed them His hands and His side, spoke to them, and opened their understanding. The Door of Pentecost is the fourth door leading out from the Upper Room. Waiting there until the spirit of God came upon them, the small band of disciples then went out to turn the world upside down. This is the door of power. What the church needs today is not prestige, not orthodoxy, but the passion and power of the presence of the living God, Dr. Foulkes concluded.

William R. Moody, son of the evangelist Dwight L. Moody, presided. Rev. A. Creelman of North Scituate and Ralph Arnold of Brockton, vice-presidents of the Massachusetts C. E. Union, assisted in the service. Mr. and Mrs. George Arkwell of Portsmouth, Ohio, sang. Dr. Foulkes led a communion service at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Sage Chapel and he spoke also in the evening. At 9:15 o'clock in Sage Chapel a music recital was given by Miss Gertrude Schroder, soprano, Miss Edna Crankshaw, organ, Carlton W. L'Hommedieu, piano, and Emil Calvacca, violin.

Conferences Employees Leaving For Home

Employees and officers of the Northfield Summer Conferences, which have continued for two months, have begun the trek back to their homes in various parts of the country. More than 200 young men and women have been working here to take care of the 5,000 guests who have been on the Northfield Seminary campus and buildings this summer. Mr. L. A. Polhemus, who is superintendent of grounds and buildings for the Northfield Schools was in charge of the force this summer. As his lieutenants he had Mr. Albin Franz of Mount Hermon, who supervised the work of the men and boys, and Miss Alice Zabriski of New York city, who was head of the women and girls. Their offices were in Kenarden Hall, the administration building.

A generous sprinkling of college degrees is evident among those who have been working here. Thirty-two colleges representing the eastern and southern half of the country are represented in the employees. Thirty students from the Northfield Seminary and 14 from Mount Hermon School have been on the campus working. Most of the employees are in educational work during the year either as teachers or students.

Besides the companionship afforded here, the employees organize various forms of entertainment and musicals. A concert was given last Sunday in organ, piano, soprano solos, and violin. A circus took in sufficient money to pay for the expenses of a picnic at Lake Spofford. A group picture was taken Tuesday.

North Church Resumes Services Sunday

The congregation of the North Church, having united its services with those of the Summer Conferences since June will return to the Church next Sunday. Sunday School will convene at 10.00 a.m. Morning worship at 11.00 with Rev. W. W. Coe acting pastor, as preacher. In the evening a song service with special choir and soloists under the leadership of Philip Porter. The mid-week service will be held at 7.30 Thursday evening.

There is "Monkey Business" at the Lawler Theatre, Greenfield the entire week of Aug. 29-Sept. 4.

A Fine Letter That Is Appreciated

—Mt Hermon, Aug. 26, 1931

The Editor,
The Northfield Herald,
Northfield, Mass.

Dear Sir:

As a clergyman and one vitally interested in the spiritual and moral good health of our community, I am sending you this candid comment.

At times I imagine myself as the efficient editor of the ideal small community newspaper, but in more lucid and calmer moments which happily interrupt my otherwise feverish days I realize how very funny that picture truly is. In my judgment, however, The Northfield Herald has made commendable progress along the lengthy road which does lead to the ideal small community newspaper. I think so for the following reasons: It diligently collects the local (and so far as necessary the national and international) news and skillfully presents the same; it has a developing editorial policy which displays courage and vision, holding as it obviously does, a decent respect for the cherished opinions and aims of various groups and individuals in the community; it displays advertising clearly and attractively; and finally it has shown increasing care in the mechanical set-up of the paper, amounting to artistic craftsmanship.

To achieve these things at any time is excellent; and to achieve them at this particular time places The Herald in that deplorably small but splendidly select company known as worthy public servants.

As I read the last issue it seemed to me that failure to express appreciation under these circumstances really would amount to neglect of a civic duty. So I wrote this letter.

Cordially yours,
LESTER P. WHITE
Pastor Mt Hermon Church

Dollar Day is announced in Brattleboro at the enterprising store of Goodnow, Pearson & Hunt according to their advertisement on Page 5. The store will be full of bargains for the thrifty purchaser.

Mr. Frank W. Kellogg reports that business was unusually good this summer and that he had his share. Well no one will dispute his statement who had visited his store especially on a Friday or Saturday after his advertisement of special prices appeared in the Herald. Mr. Kellogg says it pays to advertise.

When it comes to buying used cars the Spencer Garage offers a fine selection. Mr. Ross Spencer has leased the land to the south of his garage and it affords ample parking and display room for his collection of used cars. It is worth anyone's time interested in used cars to go up to the lot and look his bargains over. See his "ad" on Page 6.

The local Board of Health has requested that all public gatherings be discontinued for the present and accordingly several public events which bring "transient folk" to the town were canceled. Since the Conferences have closed and there will be no more "mass incomings" all fear of the outbreak of any sickness should be allayed. Northfield has a Board of Health on the job every minute.

EDITORIAL

Last June living costs were 6.5 per cent lower than in December, and 9.8 per cent below June of the previous year. Food prices dropped nearly 14 per cent in the half year that ended in June, and smaller decreases occurred in the cost of rent, home furnishings, fuel, light and other items. From the peak of prices in June, 1920, to June 1931, the cost of living went down 30.6 per cent. Thus, if the wage earner today is earning the same salary he received in 1920, his income is almost one-third greater.

A stir of concern in governmental circles in Washington, has occurred over the suggestion that a logical way to reduce the cost of government is to cut federal, state, county and municipal salaries 10 to 20 per cent. Over five million persons are shown in a partial list of public employees. All are citizens and voters. It is not at all probable that any reduction in numbers or salaries will result except by the ultimate action of the people. Once boards, commissions and public payrolls are established, little help can be secured from public officials, who depend upon votes to hold their positions, to reduce official overhead.

An army of public employees is one of the greatest dangers that follow paternalism in government—tax-consumers can then control elections and in a large measure determine the income they shall receive from the taxpayers. Only when a crisis develops and the common citizen revolts against confiscatory taxation, is any relief secured. Even in Massachusetts and in Franklin County there is a disposition to increase the salaries of office holders which should be curbed by the taxpayers at once.

"In reviewing the tax rates of various municipalities too much stress is often placed upon the fact that this or that town or city has reduced somewhat its tax rate. Investigation usually brings out the fact that the reduction has been brought about not through decreased appropriations but through the reaching out and finding of new sources of taxation. Thus while the rate is lowered, the tax burden is actually increased. Increasing valuation for raising a larger sum by taxation, unless the individual taxpayer is enabled to increase his income, does not result in benefit to the taxpayers, even though the tax rate is lower. It is the total amount of money that must be raised by taxes which tells the story regardless of what the rate is."

Editorial Courier and Gazette.
This editorial "listens well" and may have been only intended for local consumption, but it is doubtful if any intelligent Board of Assessors would raise valuations merely to reduce the tax rates—at least in Northfield where the tax rate is lowered—no one would accuse our able assessors of such procedure. Rather may it be said that we have a competent and conservative town administration.

One of the big problems confronting every small town is the conduct and control of the traffic which passes through it and Northfield is not without exception in this particular. The summer months bring many strangers to our midst who ignorant of regulations or from disrespect of law violate such regulations and endanger their own lives as well as those who permanently reside here. The roads are built for traffic and traffic should be expedited but the increasing exhibitions by native and strangers alike of careless and speedy driving, the near accidents and lucky escapes—the actual smash up and wrecks that do take place are mostly unexcusable. Our Board of Selectmen will do well to give consideration and study to this important subject and formulate some plan if the town meeting approves, to more efficiently police our thoroughfares—either by the State Police or at least by the town constables. Perhaps the adoption of local ordinances and traffic signals at important points backed by vigorous police action would solve the problem.

Gossip Heard On Main Street By Our Reporter

A smart youngster of one of our Northfield families was sent to one of our town physicians by his parents for an examination. He was looked over very carefully but being worried somewhat by the appearance of freckles asked the doctor what caused that. The physician tried to explain to him the cause of freckles and upon reaching home seemed quite happy—Mother—he said in rushing toward her—these freckles are the pieces of rust coming from my iron constitution—The mother agreed.

I dislike to mention names but the joke is on a druggist in Northfield not far from the Herald office who drives one of the finest automobiles that ever came to town. Since it is driven by other members of his family it performs a steady and useful service but recently the car acted "sluggish" and he took it down to Morgan's to have "Mike" look it over. Well the mechanism was all gone over—the trouble located and the car conditioned—the valves being ground with the new mechanical grinder—The druggist was phoned his "car was ready"—When he arrived at the garage, "Mike" was away and he jumped in an auto that looked like his and drove away. As he drove up Main Street the car moved so easily and ran so steady that he became critical of his ownership—and so worried that he phoned the garage to verify his possession of his own car—Meanwhile "Mike" had returned and answered the phone and the druggist was assured he had his own car—Well the druggist is happy his "new" old car runs like a real "new" one.

The seventy-sixth convention of the International Typographical Union will be held in Boston beginning Monday, September 14th.

Pittsfield's tax rate has taken a big jump of $5.20 over last year and for 1931 is $37.20 the highest in the history of the town. The assessors said that the increase was due to the necessity of meeting part of the new high school debt and interest on the debt, special appropriations for public welfare, increased charges from the state and county, decreased revenue from other than tax sources, and the decrease in income from corporation taxes and local revenue. The new valuations total $1,000,000, a net increase of $200,000. The total valuation of the city is now $59,407,130. Another poor advertisement to attract

Milk Situation To Be Studied

A large amount of significant information regarding the milk supply of Massachusetts is being brought together by the State Department of Agriculture for the use of the special recess commission appointed by Governor Ely to study the question of milk inspection and recommend legislation at the next session of the legislature if the commission finds such legislation wise. The full time of one man is being given to the collection of this data at the request of the commission.

One of the most important of the functions of the commission is to determine the actual conditions under which milk is being produced within the state and the extent to which dairy farmers are hampered by conflicting regulations of different health departments. Under the Massachusetts law each board of health makes its own regulations regarding the inspection of barns and milk. When a dairy farmer changes from one market to another he is subjected to different requirements. Neighboring farmers selling to different markets are under different systems of inspection. These differences lead to confusion and in many instances to unwillingness to carry out the requirements of health departments.

In order to give the commission first hand information concerning the situation as regards inspection and conditions on Massachusetts farms plans have been made for the commission to make a tour of inspection early in September. The tour will include visits to typical dairy farm areas in Worcester, Hampshire and Franklin counties.

Savings Bank Deposits Show Increase

Deposits of the 196 savings banks in Massachusetts were $50,000,000 larger on June 30, 1931, than on the same date in 1930, statistics recently released by Arthur Guy, commissioner of banks for the Commonwealth, show. Total assets are $70,000,000 greater.

Loans on real estate have increased by $20,000,000 in the period of a year, while loans on personal security have declined by $50,000,000. Most of the asset items are little changed, but a considerable increase is noted in gas, electric and water company bonds, and the investments in Federal land banks have grown from $594,000 to $2,625,000.

Savings bank funds put into stocks of banks and trust companies show a $9,000,000 increase, and the amount due from other banks is $8,000,000 higher than a year ago.

Nights are Sleepless for Acidity Victims!

Night after night of tossing on your bed—morning after morning of dragging yourself out more dead than alive, will soon put you "on the rocks". Nothing withers faster than a sleep-starved body! Yet many cases of sleeplessness are but cases of Acidity—an acid condition of the system.

Acidity is brought on by the formation of too much acid in the stomach. The acid upsets digestion and causes sour stomach, flatulency, gas pains and often sick stomach. Not infrequently it steals our health and strength and makes our nerves so restless that we can't sleep at night, fagged as we may be.

Especially for Acidity

McKesson's Milk of Magnesia is especially effective for acidity. It contains 32 to 40 grains of Magnesium Hydroxide. This is considerably more than the United States Pharmacopoeia requires. It is so highly antacid that a tablespoonful in a little water neutralizes 10 times its volume in acid. Its mild laxative effect makes it efficient as an internal purifier. Once you try McKesson's you will realize there is a difference in milks of magnesia. Absence of earthy or chalky taste, makes it pleasant for young or old to take.

Make this Sleep Test

Take a tablespoonful of McKesson's Milk of Magnesia in a little water before retiring for a few nights. See the results that soon show. Mark the improvement in digestion and the absence of old distress. Note how much less your nerves bother you and how much more soundly you sleep at night. A week tells the story. McKesson's Milk of Magnesia is more economical to use. The 8 oz. bottles cost only 25c and the 16 oz. bottles only 39c. Always ask for McKesson's by name.

Baliol College, Oxford, is the destination of John Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Norton of Mount Hermon, who sails today on the S. S. Shipper of the American Merchant Line, New York, for a year's study, he having won a $2,500 scholarship in his senior year at Yale last spring.

Mr. Norton is one of four students selected from Yale and Harvard to study at Oxford and Cambridge by the American trustees of the Charles and Julia Henry Scholarship fund. Four students have also been selected from Oxford and Cambridge to study at Harvard and Yale.

After spending three or four weeks at London, Mr. Norton expects to take residence at Oxford about October 7th. He will specialize in History.

Another Hermon graduate, Royal Bryant, '25 of Northfield, is finishing his third year as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford.

Mr. Paul Williams of the English department is to teach at West Springfield High School this coming year, and Mr. Howard Fuller of the Mathematics department will teach at Wheaton College, Illinois.

Nearly all the teachers who have been away to summer school have returned. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were at Harvard; Mr. Grove Deming studied at Harvard also; Mr. Gage took work at M. I. T.; Carroll Ross was at Harvard.

Activities on the school campus at present give evidence that the new school year is rapidly getting under way. Holbrook Hall, the administration building is busy all day enrolling students and making out schedules. The prospect of a full school is bright. On September 5th, the new students arrive to get acclimated over the week end until the former students arrive on Wednesday. Five hundred pupils will complete the enrollment.

Conference Of Religious Education Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Conference of Religious Education was held at the close of the session for the election of members of the Board and Officers for the ensuing year. Some changes in the By-Laws of the Conference were made at this session with a view to giving a more representative membership. A special committee was also appointed to study a proposal for giving to members of the Conference a share in its administration. A change was also made in the date of the annual meeting which will hereafter be held in Boston in the early Fall, thus giving time for fuller reports on the year's work and an earlier decision on the budget for the ensuing year.

Members of the Board were elected as follows. Representatives of New England State Councils of Religious Education, nominated by their respective Councils: Rev. Ivan S. Nowlan of Massachusetts; Mrs. Lanning Lewis of Connecticut; Mrs. Sarah Mercer of New Hampshire; Rev. C. Lansing Seymour of Vermont; Rev. Ernest W. Robinson of Maine. No nomination being at hand from Rhode Island this place was left vacant, to be filled by the educational boards of the denomination may be secured. Denominational representatives, also nominated by the educational boards of the respective denominations, were Rev. Edward A. Estaver, Baptist; Mr. Percy R. Ziegler, Congregational; Rev. Warren T. Powell, Methodist; Mrs. Victor A. Friend, Universalist; Miss Mona M. Mayo, Presbyterian; and Rev. Dorothy Dyar, Unitarian. Members-at-large: Rev. Charles P. MacGregor of Concord, N. H.; Rev. James P. Berkeley of Newton Center, Mass.; Rev. Robert Wood Coe of Brookline, Mass.; Mr. F. N. Bridgman of Springfield, Mass.; Mr. Arthur H. Merritt of Boston, Mass. Two or three places in the list of members-at-large were left to be filled after further consideration by the Business Committee.

The informal reports at this meeting indicated that the conference of 1931 had been one of the best from the viewpoint of earnest work, hearty co-operation and Christian spirit that had ever been held. The one drawback was the low registration, due to financial conditions, which left the Conference with a deficit for the second time in recent years. The first business of the new Board will be the securing of sufficient contributions to clear off the indebtedness thus incurred. Several members of the faculty have generously contributed a part of the honoraria, due them toward this fund.

More than five hundred credits, a large share of them being International standard credits, were awarded to students, and about forty received the diploma of the Conference at the Closing Assembly.

Constitution Day September Seventeenth

Constitution Day will soon be here. Thursday, September 17. We are glad to note that the National Committee of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution have sent out some very interesting facts regarding Constitution Day. The Chairman of that Committee is David L. Pierson, Secretary of the New Jersey Sons of the American Revolution. He is known as the "Father of Constitution Day" as it was he who, a number of years ago, brought the matter to the attention of the Governors of the states requesting them to issue a proclamation for the observance of Constitution Day.

In view of the fact that so many attacks are being made upon Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, which Constitution, with its Amendments, is the constitutional law of the land, greater emphasis than ever should be laid upon the date which marks the birthday anniversary of the adoption of the Federal Constitution by the Philadelphia Convention on September 17, 1787.

We quote the following paragraphs from the "call" sent out by Mr. Pierson and which includes ideas proposed for this year's recognition of America's Anniversary.

"Our Founders builded for us! May we show our gratitude, not only by applauding their matchless achievements, but impressing upon the indifferent, the newcomers among us and the rising generation the fact that all our progress as a free and independent nation has been due to the setting up of this system we deeply revere—the CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES!"

It is recommended, that there be a display of the Stars and Stripes from the home and every place where people meet on the anniversary day, September 17. Do not fail in this important and vital act. It is a duty!"

"Good Cheer"

In a letter received from Mr. Thomas S. Riter we quote in part:—"I was born and brought up in Brooklyn, N. Y., but I used to exist during the winter months and long for the time when I could come to Northfield during the summer and really live! I thoroughly dislike living in a city and hope I shall never have to again."

I would just like to add a word to say how much I enjoy the Northfield Herald. My mother is acting as nurse for a lady who subscribes for the Herald, so I often have opportunity to read the home-town news. The paper is indeed high-class and always contains many items of real interest and importance."

ing a good recovery. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur L. Berger of Syracuse, N. Y., who have a summer home, Loggia on the Ridge.

The State Convention of the American Legion was held at Plymouth, Mass., last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

There is "Monkey Business" at the Lawler Theatre, Greenfield the entire week of Aug. 29-Sept. 4.

Worthwhile Preachments

THE RADIO AND THE CHURCH

In his interesting book, "My Own Yesterdays," Charles R. Brown, Dean Emeritus of Yale Divinity School writes in his closing chapter of "Changes," and names the radio as one of the things which have come to be since he began his ministry to detract from the church, and has this to say in four short paragraphs after the words—"For the aged and the invalids, for the shut-ins and the shut-offs, it is a mercy. May heaven's blessing rest upon them in all that they can get out of it! But for the able-bodied, it is often an encouragement to spiritual laziness." Now follow the paragraphs:

Here is a robust man who sits down at home on Sunday in dressing-gown and slippers, with a good cigar, and listens in for fifteen or twenty minutes to Dr. Cadman or Dr. Fosdick, and thinks he has been to church. He often feels that he has done something rather shrewd. "Why should I go down to listen to our poor little second-or-third-rate preacher, when I can stay at home and hear the best?" He has not been to church. He has not cast his vote for spiritual values by going through the streets of his home town to the church of his choice. He has not organized and socialized his worship with that of his fellows in a way to make spiritually effective for the higher life of the community. He has not even paid his fare. The salaries of Cadman and Fosdick are paid by people who go to church. If everyone were as narrow-minded and selfish as he is, seeking to sponge his way into the kingdom of heaven, there would be no services of worship where he could listen in.

And the poor chap does not get much! The difference between going to church and listening in somewhere (at a safe distance from the collection plate and all other forms of responsibility) is like the difference between spending the evening with a charming young woman and telephoning to her. Anyone who has tried both, as I have, knows the difference.

"God so loved the world that he telephoned down the good news and put it on the air!" It does not read that way. God so loved the world that He gave us the good news of redemption in the person of His Son. His Son so loved the world that he took upon himself the form of a servant and was made in the likeness of men. "The word was made flesh and dwelt among us full of grace."

RCCC.

Vermont's Long Trail

The most beautiful route through Vermont is not for motorists—unless you are willing to park your car at some convenient hotel or garage and take to the woods afoot. You will not regret the effort.

The Long Trail now extends for 250 miles along the backbone of Vermont from the Massachusetts state line to the Canadian border. On its wandering way it includes all the peaks of the main range of the Green Mountains and most of the spectacular "notches" for which Vermont is famous. What more need be said for its scenic grandeur?

Fortunately for confirmed motorists the trail is crossed at frequent intervals by good highways making it easy for us to enjoy at least sections of this wonderful sky line route.

One of the best intersections is 5 miles east of Mendon. Here is located Long Trail Lodge operated by the Green Mountain Club for the benefit of those who follow the trail. The Lodge is within easy climbing distance of Mt. Killington, second highest peak of the range.

Infantile Paralysis

The following of Infantile Paralysis is issued by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and should be of interest to everyone.

ANTERIOR POLIOMYELITIS (Infantile Paralysis)

Infantile paralysis is an infectious disease. We do not know how the disease is transmitted but we do know the symptoms and believe that parents particularly should be familiar with them.

The symptoms may resemble any of the indefinite illnesses of childhood but the typical case begins with fever, headache, and some digestive disturbance. Vomiting is fairly constant and drowsiness and constipation are present frequently.

Sore throat is not uncommon, and chills, cough, dizziness or rashes may occur but are not definitely suggestive of the disease.

In the vast majority of cases there is a slight stiffness of the neck and spine, and the child cannot bend his head forward. When he sits up the whole spinal column is held in an erect position. This is one of the most suggestive indications of the disease in its early stages.

Usually some paralysis of the muscles remains after the fever and pain have gone. In some instances this is so great that the child is helpless while in others it is very slight. While there is tenderness or soreness, treatment for the paralysis should not be instituted but it should be commenced immediately after these symptoms have disappeared.

Nearly all of these children can be improved. In some the cure is almost perfect, but it is not easily brought about. Patent medicines cannot do it. Treatment for two years in most cases is necessary and many times it should be kept up much longer.

The child should be constantly kept under the care of an experienced physician and if unable to employ such a physician, the child should be taken regularly to a clinic or dispensary.

Guernsey Owners To Meet

Green Meadow farm of Williams-town, operated by Arthur G. Galusha and his sons, Mark and Walter, will be the scene of the tri-state Guernsey field day to be held Saturday, the 29th. The field day is sponsored by the Massachusetts Guernsey Breeders' Association.

The program will open with an inspection of the farm, barns and cattle. At noon there will be a judging contest open to everyone. Prizes of Guernsey jug will be given for first and second places.

A buffet lunch will be served at 1 by Mr. Galusha and his sons. At 2 there will be an entertainment and speaking. The latter will be in charge of James Harper, secretary of the Massachusetts Guernsey Breeders' association. The day will be concluded by an exhibition of the Green Meadow herd of approximately 100 head of purebred, registered Guernseys.

General Stark's Home

General John Stark, famous hero of the Battle of Bennington and husband of the hardy less famous Molly Stark, finally settled down to live not in Vermont, but in New Hampshire.

The old Stark homestead, a few miles southeast of Concord is still in existence and has always been in the possession of the Stark family.

The old place is charmingly set among great trees and far back from the road. General Stark built it in 1785.

Lafayette, who probably visited about every important place in the East did not fail to come here also. In fact it is said that he was entertained here with great ceremony and that the room he occupied has been kept as it then was. The meeting between these two great men, brave generals both, but so different in character, must have been a strange and interesting one.

Lake Pleasant

Two whist parties were held at the Inn on Monday and Thursday afternoons at which several tables were played.

Last Sunday especially, the work of Mr. Russell brought out audiences at each of the three services which taxed the capacity of the Temple.

On Thursday the annual fair of the Ladies Improvement Society proved a financial success and the evening entertainment under the direction of Rose E. Niles was thoroughly enjoyed, especially the minstrel show.

The 50th annual convocation will go into history as one of the most successful ever held at Lake Pleasant. An excellent membership roll, good attendance, generally fine weather and splendid speakers and psychics upon the program, have united to bring this result.

During the week Rev. Albert P. Blinn, Rev. Minnie M. Sayers, Mrs. Catherine Hueninger and Rev. Theodore C. Russell occupied the rostrum as either lecturer or psychic and their excellent discourses and splendid demonstrations of psychic power made a most favorable impression to large audiences.

The third week of camp meeting was full of interesting events. Starting off Monday morning with the annual business meeting of the New England Spiritualist Campmeeting Association at which the reports of the officers showed the association to be in a prosperous condition, with an excellent membership, no indebtedness whatever, its property in splendid repair and condition and a balance of $1700 in the treasury, with all bills paid. The election of officers was almost unanimous vote. President, Mrs. Helen R. Turney; vice-presidents, Mrs. Josephine M. Simon, Mrs. Harriet A. Nash, Mrs. Amelia Adams. Clerk and Secretary Rev. Albert P. Blinn. Treasurer, Mrs. Clara H. Collamore. Directors, Monroe S. Rand, John E. Butler, Julian R. Rand, J. William Feyl, Burton T. Gaskill.

Next Sunday will be the closing day of the camp meeting and will be full of interesting events.

At the forenoon service Rev. Albert P. Blinn will speak upon the subject The Ministration of Angels and Mrs. Josephine M. Simon will give psychic messages. In connection with the morning service the Children's Lyceum of Williamstown, Conn., which is famous for artistic work will put on a special program.

Rev. Theodore C. Russell of Buffalo, whose wonderful message work during the week has attracted large audiences will lecture in the afternoon at 2:30 and follow the address with psychic messages.

In the evening at 7:30 Mr. Russell will hold a message service in the Temple which will be the closing service of the convocation.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, in the band stand back of the Temple, the Turners Falls Military Band with Leonard Bemis conductor, will give a public band concert of an hour and a half.

Friday evening witnessed the social event of the season in the form of the second concert given under the direction of Ruth Comfort Renwick and June Schneider. Folk dances by the children and the specialties by Little Dorothy Bennet and Catherine Smith brought round after round of applause and the trio number by Dr. Harold J. Lamb celloist, Harold Leslie violinist and Miss June Schneider pianist, was beautifully rendered and well deserved the enthusiastic encores which each number by these talented artists received. Before the last number which was a vocal duet by Miss Ruth Comfort Renwick and Clifford Paynter, Mrs. Collamore as master of ceremonies requested the friends to remain in their seats for the closing event of the evening's program. Miss June Schneider, at the piano, played the wedding march and the curtain rose to show Rev. Albert P. Blinn in position, with Mrs. Clara H. Collamore by his side, and Miss Renwick accompanied by Mrs. Helen R. Turney and Mr. Clifford John Paynter, approaching from the wings of the platform. Mr. Blinn proceeded to solemnize the marriage of the two contracting parties, Clifford John Phillip Paynter and Ruth Comfort Renwick, Mrs. Helen R. Turney giving the bride away, and Mrs. Collamore reading a poem composed by the bride which was entitled "Marriage." Following a brief reception the newly wed couple left the grounds by auto for a short tour, as Mrs. Paynter, soloist for the services, had to be back to sing at the Sunday meetings.

Gill

The schools of the town will open for the fall term on Tuesday, September 8.

Mrs. Reginald French returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clapp, from the Farren Memorial hospital on Sunday.

The selectmen have posted a warrant calling for a special town meeting to be held at the Town Hall on Saturday evening, Aug. 29, at 8 o'- clock.

Work of improving the North cemetery grounds is being done by the committee appointed for that purpose and some of the unemployed of the town have been given a chance to work.

It was with much regret the resignation of I. J. Lawrence as supervisor of music was received by the school board. He has worked in the schools for nine years and much improvement has been made in tone production and chorus singing. Teachers and pupils always gave him a glad welcome and he will be greatly missed. His successor has not yet been appointed.

The following teachers have been engaged for the schools at Gill: Helen
M. Hunt of Orange at the Riverside Intermediate and Ruth Hopkins of Northampton at Riverside primary; Lucille Erhardt of Greenfield at the Sunnyside; Loyola North of Old Orchard, Me., at the West; Marion Louise Gee of Winchester, N. H., at the North Grammar, Ruth Whitaker of Barnardston at the North primary, and Frances Plaistrige of Spencer, Penn., who is a graduate of the Pennsylvania State College at Riverside.

There is "Monkey Business" at the Lawlor Theatre, Greenfield the entire week of Aug. 29-Sept. 4.

oke, Mass., who spent last winter in South Vernon and have been away several weeks, this summer, have returned to the Vernon Home.

Rev. George A. Gray gave a fine sermon Sunday evening on "Life's Disappointments." A fine song service was also held before the sermon with Mrs. Gertrude Gibson at the piano.

The members of the 4-H State Line Garden Club met at the home of their leader, E. W. Dunklee Monday evening for a business meeting. After this the evening was spent in a social time. Dainty refreshments of cake and cocoa were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Anderson and son and Miss Ethel Anderson of Portsmouth, N. H., are guests at the Vernon Home. They also visited their friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dunklee.
